

A460*2B

This technical diagram shows a close-up of an engine component assembly. A blue plastic housing is mounted on a metal base. Inside the housing, there are yellow components and a series of electrical pins. A black cable runs across the top of the assembly. Three callout boxes with arrows point to specific parts: 'A460*2B' points to the blue housing, 'X2411' points to the internal wiring/pins, and 'A460' points to the yellow components at the bottom of the housing. The background shows other engine parts like hoses and a dipstick.
